Heads-up!

Dear Parents and Carers,

It's the last week of the Spring Term and then next we are into the last term without the House! We are all very excited to hopefully get the keys back on time in June and start the move back in!

Thank you to all involved in Autism Awareness this week, it's been a lovely celebration of all our neurodiversity!

I hope all of you have a lovely two weeks off! We welcome all learners back on Tuesday 22nd April!

Marianne

This colourful display greeted learners on Wednesday in celebration of World Autism Day!

Mrs Clapton's class all wrote things that they liked or admired about each other

The resulting display was a collection of posit notes with positive affirmations for each learner, acknowledging their unique strengths.

On Friday learners in Mrs Clapton's class wrote some lovely poems in praise of their mums for Mother's Day. We hope they liked them?

Thank you to the Lions for their lovely Easter egg and of course to everyone who bought a ticket.

The raffle was done during today's assembly and raised £140 for some much needed sensory equipment.

Laura in Demi's class was the lucky winner!

Thanks again to everyone who bought a ticket.

Mr Western's class took their colourful inspiration from the iconic work of Pop Artist and avant garde film maker, Andy Warhol. His portrait screen prints are recognised for their strong block colours.

This term, learners have had the option to access Art Club on a Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in the second half of their lunch break.

The first big project has been shell wall hangings. This learner was happy to finally complete his project after weeks of hard work and perseverance from start to finish. What an achievement!

Mrs Clapton's class enjoyed their final session with Jodie from Amp music. Her sessions have been excellent.

The learners have learnt so much about music genres, composition, different instruments, listening and playing together.

Our learners asked if they could have a girls' football team and this was organised by our amazing staff.

The girls had a great time and it was even better that the boys came along to cheer them on.

Team work at its finest!!
